Instruction in all of the basic competitive swim strokes is practiced and a series of swim meets are held throughout the fall and winter. Approximately one hundred twenty boys and girls participate on this team each year. Emphasis is on working as part of a team as well as personal achievement. Once again, parents are a great part of the success of this program, volunteering their time and effort at swim meets and hosting an annual banquet for swimmers.

Wenner Field House

Adults utilize the facilities for a variety of activities including jogging, walking, weight lifting, basketball, volleyball, handball, paddleball and exercising. It can also be used for participation in the Basketball League and the Fitness and Aerobics classes. The Field House and Fitness Room continued to be a popular center for recreational activity for adults throughout the season.

SPECIAL NEEDS PROGRAMS

The Belmont S.P.O.R.T. (Special Programs Organized for Recreation Time) Program continued to offer outstanding programs for individuals with disabilities. From social events to competitive and noncompetitive sports programs to family activities, many S.P.O.R.T. programs were over-solicited. This growth can be attributed to the increasing number of community residences established in Belmont, along with our high retention rate of participants, as well as our attraction to families with younger children. As more individuals with special needs registered in S.P.O.R.T. programs, outreach for volunteers expanded to accommodate the needs of the population and to ensure the quality of the program. Once again, the Belmont High School football team offered S.P.O.R.T. participants weekly instruction in the proper use of the equipment in the high school fitness room during the fall months.

Special Olympics training and competition programs drew athletes as well as numerous volunteers who served as coaches and unified partners into a variety of both team and individual sports. Participation levels swelled in basketball, golf, swimming, bocce, bowling and soccer, with skating, skiing and cycling rapidly growing. For the first time last summer, two S.P.O.R.T. Special Olympians competed in power lifting at the Massachusetts Special Olympics Summer Games. Also, two of our swimmers were chosen to represent Massachusetts in the country's first Special Olympics National Summer Games, which will be held in Ames, Iowa in July, 2006

Social events and other non-competitive activities provided participants with opportunities for recreation and personal growth. A BINGO night welcomed young and old participants along with friends and family members. In front of family members and friends, S.P.O.R.T. basketball players scrimmaged against employees of the Belmont Shaw's Market, and then enjoyed pizza after the game, all sponsored by Shaw's. Summer travels brought SPORT participants and their families on a glorious cruise to Bermuda. After an amazing week of swimming, sunning, eating and entertainment, everyone left the ship ready for another cruise.

The success of the S.P.O.R.T. program continues to be a tribute to a caring and supportive community. Timeless and tireless commitments from dedicated volunteers remain our greatest asset. Resources from local civic organizations and merchants further enhance our program. The S.P.O.R.T. program is grateful to everyone in the community for supporting special needs recreation.
